

Digital Rights Europe

DUBLIN . 15 APRIL 2015

The first Digital Rights Europe conference will be held on 15 April in Dublin, Ireland. Hosted by Digital Rights Ireland, it will bring together speakers from across the European knowledge community. This one-day conference will help delegates understand and impact the issues around civil, human and legal rights in a digital age, particularly:

- Digital Rights
- Digital Privacy
- Data Security
- Digital Activism
- Online Copyright
- Data Protection

INFORMING

Expert speakers will include lawyers, journalists, developers, security advisers, advocates and activists. We are delighted to have confirmed UCD professor Dr. TJ McIntyre; privacy advocate Fergal Crehan; solicitor Simon McGarr; developer Sabrina Dent; and solicitor Linda Scales as speakers, and we'll be adding many more in the weeks to come.

ATTENDING

Digital Rights Europe will include a mix of plenary sessions, breakout sessions, workshops, CPD sessions and pre- and post-conference events. The conference will provide plenty of opportunity for connections to be made between legislators, data protection officers, solicitors, activists, tech journalists, security experts, software developers, web hosts, service providers and digital rights campaigners.
